

Criteria

The staff/business will be considerate of the needs of a potential carer/partner.

Information will be more than just an access statement hidden in a drawer or a website. The information will be suitably engaging with the guest and understanding of their potential requirements.

Ramps and pathways should be suitable for guests/carers pushing wheelchairs - not too steep, or alternative routes marked. Suitable hand rails should be installed. Emergency procedures should be second to none.

Discounts for carers. Going on holiday with a disability can be more complicated for some and businesses might go out of their way to make this easier by buying or renting equipment. Going over and above with marketing to reach the right audiences.
