Prior to your arrival in the towns

The towns, especially Laxey and Castletown, can be relatively busy in the peak season and during cruise visits. If you intend to visit the Manx National Heritage Sites, booking in advance is strongly recommended. Drivers should co-ordinate with the Manx National Heritage Group Bookings Officer prior to visiting the attractions or call ahead prior to an intended visit.

If your coach group have time for refreshments at the number of cafes and restaurants in the towns, it would be good if you could call ahead to state your time of arrival and size of your group to check availability.

The Sound at the southern tip of the Island can be busy in peak season for coaches and general visitors so it is recommended to call the café to inform them of your planned arrival: +44 (0) 1624 838123. There are narrow roads on the road to the Sound from Cregneash.

Driving a coach to the Isle of Man

Here is some key information to assist group organisers and coach drivers when planning and during their visit to the Isle of Man.

Laws and licensing

Isle of Man legislation regarding vehicle weights and dimensions may differ from those authorised in the country of registration of the visiting coaches.

The Isle of Man Road Transport Licensing Committee is responsible for regulating coaches brought temporarily into the Island and regulations have been made under the Road Transport Act 2001¹.

Buses and coaches may be brought temporarily into the Island for a period of up to, but not exceeding, one month. Passengers that may be carried are those making a temporary stay under a 'package tour' arrangement. All arrangements and payment must be made in advance, outside the Island. Cabotage Operations are prohibited, i.e. the carriage of goods or passengers that originates and terminates within the Isle of Man by an operator not licensed by the Road Transport Licensing Committee.

There is no requirement for the passengers to physically accompany the vehicle to and from the Island, and therefore the passengers may travel by air or by ferry independently of the vehicle.

Driver requirements

Drivers of visiting coaches who are licensed to drive that vehicle in the country or territory of registration are granted a temporary exemption from Isle of Man Road Transport driver licensing requirements for one month².

² The Road Transport (Driver Licensing) (Exemption) Regulations 2002. SD 86/02

Vehicle requirements - weight

Plated 2-axle coaches fitted with twin tyres and road-friendly suspension are permitted on Manx roads up to the maximum permitted weight specified on the latest plate carried by the vehicle. If such a vehicle does not have a plate, the maximum total permitted weight is 18,000kg depending on the axle spacing, and the maximum axle weight is 11,500kg for the driving axle.

In the case of 2-axle coaches without twin tyres and without road-friendly suspension, Isle of Man limits apply. In such a case the total weight of the vehicle is limited to 16,260 kg depending on the axle spacing, and its maximum axle weight is limited to 10,170kg for each axle.

In the case of 3-axle coaches, whether or not they are fitted with twin tyres and road-friendly suspension, the permitted weights are 24,390kg for the vehicle as a whole depending on the axle spacing and 10,170kg for each axle.

Cleaning

Coaches may be cleaned and serviced, by prior arrangement, at the Bus Vannin's Bus Depot, situated to the west of the North Quay, between the Railway Station and Tesco's Supermarket. Contact: Bus Traffic Manager, +44 1624 663366.

Parking

It is recommended that you use the Ordnance Survey Landranger Map No.95 for planning days out on the Isle of Man.

Many of the small towns and villages have narrow roads and one-way systems. Coaches are prohibited on some narrow roads. Please refer to traffic signs when travelling around the Island. Please use the preferred routes to the coach parking areas described below and refrain from using Satnav on the Island as it can send coaches down unsuitable roads.

The Island's historic sites and key attractions are regularly visited by coach parties and where possible coach parking is accommodated nearby but in some cases, for example, Castletown and Laxey Wheel, parking adjacent to heritage sites is not possible. Please see below maps for details of drop off and parking areas.
