

Who can travel to the Isle of Man?

- and what are the rules?

No isolation or testing: for fully vaccinated and natural immunity visitors

Applicable if you:

- Are 18+ and have completed the full course of an approved COVID-19 vaccine, or you are aged 12-17 and have received at least one dose of the Pfizer/BioNTech vaccine
- On arrival, at least two weeks have passed since the first dose (12-17 y/o) or the full course was administered
- Have tested positive for COVID-19 within 180 days prior to your arrival and have a natural immunity
- Have not been to any countries on the red travel list in the 10 days before arrival to the Island
- Do not have COVID-19 or any symptoms

The natural immunity exemption applies to those who:

- have undertaken a PCR test within 180 days prior to their arrival to the Island and the test result was positive
- undertook the PCR test within the Common Travel Area
- have not travelled outside the Common Travel Area in the 10 days prior to arrival to the Island
- at least 11 days must have passed since receiving the positive PCR test result before travelling to the Island
- If you are travelling with children aged 12-17 who have not had any doses of a COVID-19 vaccine, they will be required to follow the 'Test to Release' pathway (if travelling from the common travel area), or the '7 Day Isolation' pathway (if travelling from a country not on the red travel list). For both pathways each child must have a COVID-19 PCR test within 48 hours of arrival, and isolate until they receive a negative result (Test to Release) or for 7 days (7 Day Isolation). You are able to isolate in a shared space (such as your accommodation) with them but are otherwise unaffected by their isolation period. Tests are free of charge for children and can be booked by calling +44 (0) 1624 822111 (between 8am-8pm, 7 days a week)
- Children aged 0-11 are exempt from any testing and self-isolation.
